-Music can induce many reactions; physically, mentally, and emotionally. Some can cozx negative reactions and some can bring out positive ones. Classical, jazz, and some rock has been found to all have positive effects whereas death metal, thrash metal, and untuned instruments in any type of music generally has negative effects. However, it all depends on the person. music affects the body in 3 different parts. One is the mind where you count time in music, make up improvisation, etc. Another is your body where you dance to it, tap your feet to the beat and learn muscle memory. The third thing that reacts to music is your soul.
